

Meet Zach

Our Newest Account Executive

The AvAir team is pleased to announce that Zach Hall has joined our growing team as an account executive. A published author and an accomplished sports business professional, Zach's previous experience includes working for the Phoenix Suns, the Arizona Coyotes and the Arizona Diamondbacks for 10 consecutive years. In his role as account executive, Zach will take on a broad range of tasks on behalf of AvAir, its clients and its executives, including, but not limited to:

- Managing accounts and maintaining consistent communications with clients
- Catering to client needs and developing effective solutions
- Assisting with business development and the implementation of new marketing strategies

Want to connect with Zach and the rest of our team? Shoot Zach a note at Zach.Hall@avair.aero.